Is Technical Support a good option for you?

- This is a good option when you just need a little assistance, but you are not interested in being involved in a lengthy process.
- This may be worth exploring if the Respondent has already left Oregon Tech, but you need some closure and want to be sure the matter has been documented.

- ➔ The Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Title IX Coordinator, or Title IX Investigator can help you complete the form

Does an informal complaint make sense?

- This may be a good option if you have a minor issue that you think can be resolved or you just want the behavior to stop.
- This may be a good option if you think the person engaging in (minor) misconduct would most benefit from help. Sometimes what people really need is coaching or counseling, not discipline.

File a Formal Complaint

- ➔ The Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Title IX Coordinator, or Title IX Investigator can help you complete the form
- ➔ Call or email the Title IX Office. We can complete the form for you, as we discuss the process and your concerns

Is a formal complaint a better option?

- If you want a thorough and formal investigation, this may be your best option.
- Your continued participation takes time, but it is also empowering.
- Consider this option for serious misconduct or when you are concerned about a pattern of misconduct or escalating misconduct.

File an Anonymous Complaint

- ➔ File a Campus Incident Report: Login to TechWeb, click on Campus Resources, click on Report an Incident
- ➔ File a report through the Safe Campus Incident Reporting Form. This routes to the Title IX Coordinator
- ➔ File an online report using Ethics-Point (employees) or the Student Affairs Anonymous Report Form (students)

Would you prefer to anonymously report?

- If you see something, say something.
- Anonymous reporting is better than not reporting known or suspected sexual misconduct!
- If you do not want continued involvement, this may be a good option for you.
- Tip: Provide as many details as you can!
